QUOTA IS DOUBLED

NODAWAY'S SUBSCRIPTION TO LIBERTY LOAN $989,000

THE OFFICIAL FIGURES

Nine of the Fifteen Townships Subscribed More Than 200%, With Green Having 264%

Nodaway county oversubscribes its quota in the third Liberty Loan just 200 per cent, with a quota of $494,800, the official figures, as given by Chairman W. C. Pierce today are $989,600. Every township in the county is oversubscribed, with Green leading, having subscribed 264 per cent of its quota.

Of the fifteen townships, Atchison, Green, Hopkins, Jefferson, Monroe, Nodaway, Union, White Cloud and Polk, each is recorded as having subscribed more than 200 per cent.

The townships, their quota and their subscriptions are given by Chairman Pierce as follows:

Atchison	$25,600	$55,300
Grant	24,100	36,300
Green	20,100	53,100
Hopkins	29,300	65,100
Hughes	35,500	63,600
Independence	31,300	51,500
Jackson	31,200	52,200
Jefferson	21,000	42,500
Monroe	24,000	57,300
Nodaway	30,300	69,200
Lincoln	34,500	60,600
Union	23,100	55,300
Washington	23,500	31,000
White Cloud	24,100	51,400
Polk	117,200	255,300
Total - -	$494,800	$989,600

The figures above, giving the totals of each township, may not be absolutely correct. They are statistical. Care has been made in their preparation, but it may be there are some duplications caused by certain subscriptions being reported from two different townships. But these are few, if any, and would not materially affect or change the result.

AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

SPLENDID MUSICAL ATTRACTIONS WILL BE HERE THIS SUMMER

JULY 31 TO AUGUST 6

Men Secured Who Will Be Able to Speak With Authority On Great Problems Connected With the War

Music and entertainment will be emphasized more than usual on this summer's chautauqua program, according to T. F. Graham, president of the Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua System, who was in Maryville recently for a conference with the local committee. It is Mr. Graham's belief that people will welcome, as never before, the programs which have been built with the idea of bringing cheer and inspiration.

This does not mean that war is going to be neglected. The Redpath system is cooperating with the government in every possible way and speakers will be here who can speak with authority on various phases of the war and war-time activities.

Mr. Graham pointed out that President Wilson referred to the chautauqua as "an integral part of the national defense," because it helps to keep up the morale of the folks at home while the boys are "over there." And this opportunity and obligation of the chautauqua movements was kept in mind when the summer program was planned.

Westminster Choir.

The musical and entertainment numbers promise to be among the most popular features ever presented on the chautauqua system.

Our Sunday musical company will be the Westminster choir. This is an organization of twenty-eight people, including an orchestra. The singers will wear the vestments of the cathedral and will sing the great oratorio numbers, old hymns and choruses from the best operas. Several soloists of note are members of this organization.

"It Pays to Advertise."

Another innovation will be presented of modern drama on the chautauqua platform. The chautauqua management has secured the exclusive chautauqua rights of "It Pays to Advertise" from the authors, Roi Cooper Megrue and Walter Hackett. This play proved to be one of the best of modern productions and had long runs in New York and Chicago. The story is said to be typically American and the whole production as "clean as a hound's tooth."

A New York caste has been secured for the summer. The company will be headed by William J. Keighley, for several seasons a star with the Ben Greet Players. Mr. Keighley also played the leading role in "The Fortune Hunter." The leading woman will be Jean Brae, the star in the New York production of "Little Women."

Orchestral - Band.

Music lovers will be pleased at the announcement of the coming of the Bostonias. This is a ladies' orchestral-band, directed by Belle Yeaton Renfrew. The Bostonia orchestra was organized in 1901 and has been under the direction of Mrs. Renfrew ever since. This is really a symphony orchestra and one which ranks with the great organizations of the country. Joint concerts have been played with Arthur Prior's band, the United States Marine band, the Damrosch, Boston Symphony and Thomas orchestras.

Williams Singers.

The Williams' Jubilee Singers are conceded to be the greatest colored singers before the public. This company was organized by the present manager nearly fifteen years ago and the personnel has remained the same from that day to this. Their concert work has included a year in Europe and 130 concerts in the city of London.

Jess Pugh Returns.

Jess Pugh, the entertainer who delighted Redpath patrons with his work a few seasons ago, will be back this summer with a fresh supply of songs and monologues for the prelude programs.

Another prelude artist who is said to stand high in the profession is Knight McGregor, the Scotch baritone. McGregor will dress in kilts and will feature dialect songs and monologues.

Indian legends, songs and folk lore will be given by Oyapela (Singing Water), a genuine Indian princess.

WINNERS IN DEBATE

EXCELSIORS WON OVER PHILOS IN SPIRITED ARGUMENT

A READING CONTEST, TOO

Miss Mahala Saville Gets First Award In Inter-Society Contests at Normal Last Night

Should the United States adopt universal military training as a permanent policy?

Members of the Excelsior and Philomathean literary societies of the Norman school last night took up the national question in debate. The debaters were young ladies—for what did a mere man know about military training and the needs of the government? Miss Eva Bohannon and Miss Ethel Pruitt, Excelsiors, vigorously championed adoption of the policy. Miss Hazel Reaugh and Miss Marie Alcorn, Philos, were equally certain that it should not be included in the government's program. The discussion was both entertaining and enlightening, with champions and opponents using all the arguments available for their purpose.

Although the opponents of the measure handled the subject skillfully the decision of the judges was cast for the affirmative — universal military training winning by several lengths. The Excelsiors were given a total of 79 score points out of a possible 100, the basis of scoring being 75 points on argument and 25 on individual speakers and effectiveness. In individual scores the Excelsiors ranked high with 95 points each.

The reading by members of the Eurekan, Philomathean and Excelsior societies was a feature of the evening's entertainment and was enjoyed by a large crowd. The winner of the inter-society contest was Miss Mahala Saville of the Eurekans, whose reading of "The Black Night," by Hopper, was splendidly given; a score of 100 per cent was the verdict of one of the judges.

Miss Ida B. Warden of the Philos was awarded second place, her reading being "Patsey," by Kate Douglas Wiggin.

Miss Laveta McClanahan of the Excelsiors won third place, her reading being "The Two Homecomings."

Tomorrow night the second in the series of debates will be given, together with contests in oratory. The question for debate is: "Resolved, That Government Ownership of Railroads Is Desirable." The affirmative will be by Misses Tessie Dougan and Nona Robinson; negative, by Misses Gladys Rinehart and Opal Key.

Orations will be as follows: Miss Hattie Dykes, "Pyramids"; Miss Nellie Miller, "Permanent Peace"; Lloyd Hartley, "Our New Obligations."

Mrs. H. J. Parrish and Miss Irene Swinford were guests Sunday of H. J. Parrish and daughter, Maybird, of St. Joseph.

Prof. C. H. Belting, who has been on a several days' business trip to Urbana-Ill., will return tonight to his home in Maryville.

Miss Blanche Wallace will leave soon for Shawnee, Okla., where she will spend the summer at the home of Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Wallace.

HIT AT ARRAS NEXT

HINDENBURG HAS BEEN SHIFTING MEN FOR A NEW DRIVE

PLANS A DOUBLE BLOW?

Heavy Concentration of Forces East of Amiens and Arras Has Been Going On for Eight Days

(By Int. Press).

All indications today were that the next blow that will be struck by the Germans will be in the sector at Arras, as there has been heavy concentration of men and guns in that section. Military critics have long predicted a German drive on Arras and the signs lead to the belief that the forecast promises to be verified within a short time. During the eight days since the Germans were whipped on the northern Flanders front Von Hindenburg has been shifting his troops and heavy guns with additional reserves having been added, it is believed, and the possibility of a double blow east of Amiens and Arras grows.

(Amiens is directly north of Paris some seventy miles and has a population of 93,000. Arras is thirty-five miles northwest of Amiens; it has a population of 25,000 and is the key to the German military positions from Cambrai to the sea. It was used in the German retreat to the "Hindenburg line." Both towns are important railway centers.)

Paris, May 7.—Artillery was active on both sides in the sector of Ancre river, the war office announced today. The Germans attempted to raid a small French post west of Hangard, but were repulsed. The French carried out minor operations in the same region, taking some prisoners.

London, May 7.—British troops successfully raided German lines at Neuville and Vitasse, the war office announced. German attempts to raid the British lines at Boyelles failed and successful raids were carried out last night in the neighborhood of Neuville and Vitasse, the British capturing a few prisoners and three machine guns. The casualties were light. The raid attempted at Boyelles by the enemy failed. There is nothing further to report, the statement adds.

Capt. Finch Tested Life Preserver Before Starting on Trip to France

In addition to his experiences in France in the front line trenches, Capt. Robert L. Finch, Red Cross lecturer and former Maryville pastor, was a principal in a surprise baptismal party at the beginning of his trip that he failed to tell about in his address given here last Sunday afternoon.

At the beginning of the voyage from New York the members of the Red Cross party, together with the other passengers on the ship, were given life preservers for emergency use in case of being torpedoed by Germans. The life preservers were suits of a new pattern, inflated, and with pockets for storing away concentrated foods; the suit fits tightly around the neck and wrists and, properly equipped, it was said a person could remain in the water without great discomfort for several days.

When the members of the Red Cross party were given their suits it was suggested that a practical test be given them and volunteers were called for to make the demonstration. It was in February and during the coldest weather of the winter, but Capt. Finch, always ready to try anything once, volunteered to go into the water with his "preserving suit."

After some delay in getting into the rather cumbersome habiliment he reappeared on deck properly equipped and prepared to descend via the ladder to enter the water. His companions decided, however, that his method of getting into the briny deep was not after the fashion that would be adopted in the event of being submarined and forced to quick action. They gathered him up in their arms and—"splash"—Capt. Finch found himself in the ice cold water of New York harbor spitting out salty liquid and trying to gain his equilibrium.

It was finally accomplished, however, his companions being interested onlookers from the side of the ship, following the success of his efforts with great glee. The captain remained in the water for nearly an hour and declares he suffered not the least from cold and was quite comfortable.

AT THE CHAUAUQUA

Oyapela is one of the leading women of her race, cultured and talented. At the present time she is at the head of the department of expression in a woman's college at Columbia, Mo. Her grandfather, George W. Stidham, was chief of the Creek nation during the Civil War. He represented the Creeks at Washington on fifteen different occasions.

Youngsters' Day.

The last day of the chautauqua will be especially for little folks. A real circus with three big rings, side shows and museum will be staged by the children of the Junior Chautauqua on the last afternoon. The morning hour lady, crew boys and Edward Reno, the magician, will be here to help in the big "stunt." Reno is being brought here especially for the children's circus.

The program on the last night will be given by Norton's singing band. This organization is similar to the Royal Dragoons of last year, only there will be eleven men this year.

War Lectures.

In addition to the address by Cyclone Davis on "The Why of Our Participation in the War," four other headliners have been secured who will deal in the ablest and most authoritative way with other phases. Along these lines of absorbing interest there will be nothing left to be desired.

Among the most novel and interesting of these will be the wonderful story of Private Ernest S. Lovell, who went to France with the first Canadian over-seas expeditionary force, and fought the Huns in the first great battles around Ypres. Finally taken prisoner he spent three years in German prison camps, finally escaping after two desperate attempts, and through insufferable hardships reaching England. His story is stranger than fiction and thrilling in the extreme. He is able to give an accur-

Instead of Epworth League.

The Sunday School Board of the First Methodist church will hold a meeting tonight at the church parlors, instead of the Epworth League, as was stated in yesterday's Democrat-Forum.

Entertain Clearmont Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McDowell and son Clark Edwin, north of Maryville, entertained at 12 o'clock dinner Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hodges and Miss Marie Tarry of Clearmont.

Mrs. Barry Hostess.

Mrs. R. M. Barry was hostess to the members of the Missionary Society of the South Methodist church, which met yesterday afternoon. The study for the afternoon was "Missionary Work in Korea." The meeting was conducted by Mrs. J. H. Thorp. About ten members and two visitors were present. The visitors were: Mrs. Ed Pyles and Mrs. John Neal.

Entertains for Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Casteel of Ravenwood entertained last night in honor of Mrs. Casteel's sister, Miss Nellie Bentley and J. F. Collins of Excelsior Springs. The evening was spent with music and games. Dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess. The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Bentley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beedle, Mrs. C. C. Steiger, Misses Letha Leary, Elizabeth Flynn, Maude Yeary, Leota Yarnell, Wavie Ralston, Leola McDaniels and Frank Yarnell.

Entertain at Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Cockayne entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of J. P. Cockayne, who was celebrating his birthday anniversary. Plates were laid for: Mr. and Mrs. Will Hoy and daughter, Orlena, of Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ol Gregory of Clearmont, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Grimsley of Quitman, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Cockayne and son, Ivan, of Skidmore, Grandma Gregory of Clearmont, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cockayne, Miss Pearl Booth, Virgil and Cecil Grooms, Walter and Arthur Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Glenn of Clearmont, Drexal Hoy, Theodore and Vilas Cockayne, Oliver Gregory and the host and hostess.

Surprised on Fortieth Birthday Anniversary.

Frank N. Miller, who was celebrating his fortieth birthday anniversary yesterday, was agreeably surprised last night when a party of his friends gathered at his home near Maryville to spend the evening with him. At a late hour the guests were invited to the dining room where dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. In the center of the table was a beautiful birthday cake on which forty candles were placed, and Mr. Miller was requested to light each candle. A buttonhole contest, in which a number of the men were competing, proved to be an interesting event. Jim Murphy won the prize for having made the neatest buttonhole. Mrs. August Stapler won the prize in a seed corn testing contest for the women. Music was furnished by Frank Schumacher and Miss Hilda Lahr. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Will White, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holt and family, Mrs. John Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. August Stapler, Mrs. John Kireh, Mrs. M. Lahr and daughter, Hilda, Frank Schumacher, Anselm Schumacher, James Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Rice and family, Leonard Brown and Herman Linneman.

Sunday 12 o'Clock Dinner Party.

One day last week Mr. and Mrs. Henry Glines, living about ten miles north of Maryville, sent an invitation to G. E. Zwilling and wife and daughter, Ella and Wm. E. Trueblood to come up and spend Sunday with them. Albert Glines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Glines, drove his car down early Sunday morning to Maryville and was accompanied to the Glines home by the above named party at 12 o'clock prompt. A sumptious dinner was awaiting us; the table seemed to be trembling under its weight of good eatables. After dinner we were invited to view the fine hogs and the hundreds of spring chicks. After returning to the house we were invited into the parlor by Miss Laura and Miss Edna Glines, who played a number of pieces each on the piano. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves hugely, but the most fun was when Miss Laura caught Trueblood sitting in a two wheel cart. He could neither get forward or backward or sidewise, so Miss Laura took a snapshot at him with her kodak. He soon recovered, after which the guests returned, wishing the Glines family a happy future.
